

DIVINE DECO

•• Gatsby style is all the rage again with the eagerly anticipated 2013 release of Baz Luhrmann's 3D adaptation of F. Scott Fitzgerald's legendary American novel. Designers are taking inspiration from Deco-era architecture and vintage models to create timeless 21st century women's watches — L.K.

← Vacheron Constantin's Malte 100th Anniversary Edition pays tribute to the brand's first tonneau-shaped pieces from the early 20th century. $51,300, at Vacheron Constantin, Manhattan, and South Coast Plaza

→ Carl F. Bucherer's Alacria Diva Gothic, limited to 25 pieces, makes a dramatic entrance wardrobe in rubies and diamonds on a galuchat (stingray) strap. $149,900, at David Orgell and carl-f-bucherer.com

Rapace

→ Jaeger-LeCoultre's Grande Reverso 1931 Rouge takes its cues from the house's original Reversos, which were produced with colorful dials during the '30s; Noomi Rapace wore a Jaeger at this year's Venice Film Festival. $8,400, at Jaeger-LeCoultre boutiques

← Ralph Lauren's limited-edition Modern Art Deco watch looks like it danced out of a '20s party scene, in 18-karat white gold with diamonds, black onyx and white ceramic. $51,000, ralphlaurenwatches.com

Dunst

→ Van Cleef & Arpels' Le Bal Black & White watch from the Bals de Legende collection mimics architect William Van Alen's design for the Chrysler Building with a mother-of-pearl and 18-karat white gold dial; Kirsten Dunst wore a Van Cleef watch this year in Cannes. Price upon request, at Van Cleef & Arpels boutiques